DEFENDANTS' RESPONSE TO PLAINTIFFS' MOTION FOR CONSOLIDATION OF CASES

COME NOW, the Defendants, by and through their counsel, Donelson Ciancio & Goodwin, PC, and, for their Response to Plaintiffs' Motion for Consolidation of Cases, state as follows:

1. Plaintiffs' motion is frivolous, groundless and vexatious.
2. Rule 42 consolidation requires the cases to have common questions of law or fact. The Coday v. Dream Stone, Inc., case does not have common questions of law or fact with this case.
3. Defendants have contacted counsel for Coday, Michael P. Matthews, Esq., and have been advised that neither he nor his client are interested in consolidation of the cases. An affidavit from Mr. Matthews is attached hereto.

4. Consolidation of the cases would not avoid inconvenience, prejudice and unnecessary costs or delay.

5. The case law cited by Plaintiffs in support of their motion is not germane to the circumstances herein.

WHEREFORE, Defendants move the Court to deny Plaintiffs' Motion to Consolidate and to enter an award for attorneys' fees to the Defendants as a result of their defense of the Motion.

Respectfully submitted this 18th day of December, 2009.

DONELSON CIANCIO & GOODWIN, P.C.

AFFIDAVIT OF MICHAEL P. MATTHEWS

I, Michael P. Matthews, Esq., the affiant, being duly sworn, state and affirm as follows:

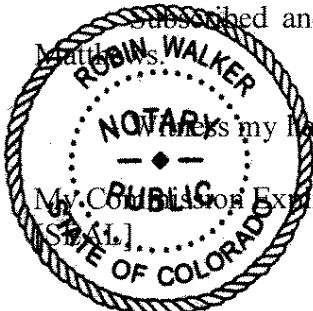

1. I am a lawyer duly qualified to practice in the State of Colorado.
2. I am a lawyer with the law firm of Jackson Kelly, PLLC.
3. My firm and I represent Todd Coday in a lawsuit identified as Todd Coday v. Dream Stone, Inc., Scott Murphy, Ron Murphy and Ida Murphy, Civil Action No. 2009CV334 filed in the Weld County District Court (the "Coday Case").
4. I am aware of the Motion for Consolidation of Cases which has been filed by Craig D. Buckley and Pamela R. Reynolds in Weld County District Court Case No. 2009CV991 (the "Buckley Case").
5. I have spoken with Daniel T. Goodwin, attorney for the Defendants in the Buckley Case.
6. Neither I nor my client are interested in consolidation of the cases.
7. The representations made by Mr. Buckley and Ms. Reynolds in their Motion that the cases "involve common questions of law and fact" are not true.
8. I have never spoken to Mr. Buckley or Ms. Reynolds concerning consolidation of these cases.
9. I am not interested in entering an appearance in the Buckley Case to oppose the Motion.
10. I have given Daniel T. Goodwin authority to represent to the Court that it is my desire that the Motion to Consolidate the Cases be denied.
